All confidential information relayed by the seller/landlord must be kept confidential except that a licensee must reveal known material defects about the property. A subagent has the same duties and obligations as the seller/landlord agent.

Buyer Agency: As a buyer agent the licensee and the licensee's company work exclusively for the buyer/tenant and must act in the buyer's/tenant's best interest including making a continuous and good faith effort to find a property for the buyer/tenant except while the buyer/tenant is subject to an existing agreement. All confidential information relayed by the buyer/tenant must be kept confidential except that a licensee must reveal known material defects about the property.

Dual Agency: Dual Agency arises when the same company represents the Seller and the Buyer in the same transaction.

This party is known as an unrepresented party (customer) and a licensee owes an unrepresented party (customer) the duties of good faith and fair dealing. An unrepresented party (customer) is not a client or prospective client. If you elect to be an unrepresented party (customer) to a transaction or listing, take the steps necessary to protect your best interests. If the other party is represented by an agent, you may be at a disadvantage in the transaction due to the skill and experience of that agent.
